OUTLINES.

The Real Estate Trust Company bank in Philadelphia closed its doors yesterday, having been wrecked by President Frank K. Hipple, who died suddenly or committed suicide last Friday; he loaned $5,300,000 to one promoter on worthless collateral and made falsified statements to the directors, some of whom are men with national reputation; the liabilities are $10,000,000.——In the South Carolina Democratic primary yesterday, M. F. Ansel for Governor and J. F. Lyon for Attorney General, who are opposed to the dispensary, defeated the candidates advocated by Senator Tillman. ——Only nine delegates showed up at the Populist State convention in Georgia yesterday, the excuse being that the Populists voted in the Democratic primaries for Hoke Smith, who stood for what they stand for.——The Pan-American Conference closed at Rio Janeiro on Monday night, with complimentary allusions by South American statesmen to the United States for the part it has taken in the affair.——Jarvis Bowens, the United States' negro consul at Guadeloupe, has resigned because he made unwarranted and alarming reports from his post.——Secretary Wilson yesterday visited the Chicago stockyards and was pleased with the improved conditions.——The Cincinnati industrial exposition was formally opened yesterday by Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of President Roosevelt.——The programme for the Bryan reception in New York to-morrow night was given out yesterday, the function to commence as soon as he lands from the steamer to-morrow afternoon.——The Cuban insurrection is believed to have no chance of success, although it is acknowledged to be formidable.——New York Markets: Money on call firm, 3¾ to 4 per cent., ruling rate 3¾, closing bid 3½, offered at 4; spot cotton quiet, 9.90; flour steady but slow; wheat firm, No. 2 red, 78¼ elevator; corn barely steady, No. 2, 56¾ elevator; oats barely steady, mixed 35½; turpentine firm, 64½ to 65; rosin firm, strained, common to good, $4.10 to $4.20.

There is a "goodeel" in the Carnegie simplified spelling to make you "laf."

The book agent who is out selling dictionaries may as well take to the woods.

The candidates for Congress out West are having a good deal to say about irrigation. The voters in the east would no doubt like to hear the subject of "irrigation" mentioned occasionally.

Republican papers now call it "the Roosevelt rate law." Senator Tillman will please sit up and take notice that the hyphen which connected his name with it got mashed and was thrown into the hell box.

At Chicago on Monday, the Federal grand jury returned ten indictments with 6,428 counts against the Standard Oil Company. Looks pretty bad for the Oil Trust but its troubles could be greater. President Roosevelt might have insisted that the indictments be made out in those spelling reform words.

By doing like Bryan was letting on like he would do if he got to be President, Roosevelt increased the demand for Bryan into a furore. In view of that fact it is strange how the Republicans can stand for Roosevelt for a minute. When he was "doing things" he was just bulling the market on Bryan stock.

Mr. Bryan will have a splendid opportunity to-morrow night for saying the right thing at the right time. If he will make the trusts and tariff revision the main features of his speech he will add immensely to his strength with the people of the whole country. His best friends hope he will chase no such phantoms as free trade and government ownership of railroads.

Secretary Shaw advertised for a lot of silver bullion and announced a plan by which he hoped to keep the price from going up. Just as soon as the Republicans wanted to coin a little silver the price went up and they would consider it a shame if bullion got so high that the value of one of our 67 cent silver dollars should get to be worth a dollar without having gold to stand for it.

THE CAR ORDINANCE

AWAIT ALDERMANIC ACTION

Several Cases For Assault With Deadly Weapon—Henderson Hayes Back Again on Second Day—Bethea Negro Discharged.

The cases of the street car conductors, charged with violating the ordinance in regard to the regulation of the traffic at the Front and Princess street junction, were called in the police court yesterday, but were continued by Mayor Pro Tem. O'Brien until the Board of Aldermen meets and construes the ordinances or passes another that is not dangerous to life and limb. General Manager Skelding, of the Consolidated Company, was present in defence of the conductors and explained the situation. The Mayor informed him of the law as it was found on the statute book and suggested that in view of the confusion over the matter that the cases be continued until the Aldermen meet and that course it will take.

The negro Ed. Carter, charged with carving up another of his own color at Fourth and Brunswick streets Saturday night, was bound to the higher court under bond of $50. He was also found guilty of slashing a colored woman on the same escapade and was bound over under bond of $50 in that case.

James Mills, a negro arrested for cutting an excursionist some time ago, was also given trial on a charge of an assault with a deadly weapon. He was bound to the higher court under bond of $50 and went to jail in default.

John Bethea, the negro charged with robbing a box of $27 in money at the City Livery stables Saturday night, was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., and was found not guilty. The evidence against him was only circumstantial.

Henderson Hayes, who was before the court the day before, was back again yesterday for the same offence—drunk and down. Monday he was let off with the costs. Yesterday he was given 15 days.

Richard Jordan, for an affray, was let off with the costs. Chas. Fisher, charged with being drunk and down, was let off with the costs. Pat Reilly, drunk, was told to go and sin no more. Other cases yesterday were of the usual trifling order.

BLADEN STREET EXCURSIONS.

One Last Night and Another Labor Day Next Monday.

In spite of the rain, the excursion under the auspices of Bladen Street M. E. church to the "Rocks" and return, on the steamer Wilmington last night, was a success and more than a hundred members of the Bladen Street congregation and their friends enjoyed the run down the river. There were several selections by the Bladen Street Quartette and other diversions for the young people.

Next Monday, Labor Day, Bladen Street church will run an excursion to Southport and Fort Caswell on the steamer Sea Gate, leaving the city at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and returning that evening. The rare privilege of seeing the government fortifications at Caswell will be offered to all who take the trip and as the number is limited to 300, it is expected that all the tickets will be taken early this week. There will be a game of baseball between the strong Caswell team and a team from this city. The trip affords an excellent holiday and the public will not be slow to take advantage of it.

An Approaching Marriage.

Friends in his city have received handsome invitations bearing the following announcement: "Mr. and Mrs. Matthews Wilder Johnson request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Nellie Gray, to Mr. William Pink Farrar, on Wednesday afternoon, September twelfth, nineteen hundred and six at three o'clock, Fayetteville, North Carolina."

REPUBLICANS NAME J. BYRON SCHULKEN

Columbus Man Named to Oppose Hon. H. L. Godwin for Congress in This District—Convention Yesterday at Wrightsville.

After refusing by a vote of forty to eleven to endorse E. R. McKeithan, of Cumberland, as an independent candidate for Congress in this district, the Sixth District Republican Congressional Convention in session yesterday evening at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, nominated J. Byron Schulken, Esq., of Columbus county, to oppose the Hon. Hannibal L. Godwin, of Harnett, the Democratic nominee. Irvin B. Tucker, Esq., of Columbus, who placed Mr. Schulken in nomination, in an eloquent speech, pledged his candidate's acceptance and his active effort on the hustings to carry the banner of the party to success in the district, going to the extreme, if necessary, of challenging the Democratic nominee to a joint canvass of the district. The nomination was by acclamation and with some degree of enthusiasm.

The convention was called to order in the auditorium of the Seashore Hotel at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Postmaster R. W. Davis, of Southport, chairman of the District Executive Committee. C. Ed. Taylor, also of Brunswick, was present in the capacity of secretary. In calling the convention to order Mr. Davis made a ringing declaration of the principles of the party and gave vent to prophecy of better things for Republicism in the District in the future. There being no contests from any of the counties, upon motion of R. S. White, Esq., of Elizabethton, the appointment of a committee on credentials was dispensed with. Mr. Taylor, the secretary, then called the roll of counties in the District and all were represented by about 50 delegates, the largest number, perhaps, coming from Brunswick. Mr. Slocomb, of Fayetteville, in the interim of permanent organization asked for an expression from the various counties as to the best time and place of holding the Seventh District Judicial Convention. The chairman of delegations had a conference with him and Pembroke, was decided upon as the most central location, the time to be decided by the Judicial Executive Committee later.

Upon motion the temporary organization of the convention was made permanent with Mr. Davis, chairman and Mr. Taylor secretary. Mr. Tucker, of Columbus, then moved that a committee on platform and resolutions be named to report to the convention after a recess of an hour or more. The convention was agreed as to the appointment of a committee, but there was much difference as to the length of the proposed recess. An amendment to recess until 7:30 o'clock was lost and 6 o'clock was finally agreed upon as the hour. The committee was then announced by the chair as follows: Taylor, of Brunswick; Tucker, of Columbus; S. A. Edmund, of Robeson; W. J. Sutton, of Bladen; Jno. M. Coates, of Harnett; W. J. Meredith, of New Hanover; Slocomb, of Cumberland. The convention then took a recess and the delegates disposed themselves about the hotel for a little more than an hour.

At 6 o'clock the convention reassembled but the platform committee was not quite ready and the delegates were at ease for another half an hour or more. An inebriated delegate from Columbus who could not withstand the glaze of the floor polished for dancing purposes except on state occasions, furnished the only divertisement by falling all over himself as he was making his way out the east door of the hall. Finaly there was a rap for order and the platform committee reported through Chairman Ed. Taylor. It heartily endorsed the State and National platforms of the party, especially that feature of the State platform calling for an extension of the grandfather clause until 1920. The local self-government plank in the platform was also endorsed strongly; the party was bidden to shake hands with itself on the "era of prosperity" now being enjoyed as the result of Republican control of affairs; the President was extolled for his "civic righteousness and raising the standard of honor" and such legislation as the regulation of railway rates, passage of the pure food bill, enactment of wholesome immigration laws, the triumph of the meat inspection bill and the construction of the Panama canal were pointed to with pride as the result of Republican administration. The platform and resolutions were passed unanimously with applause, upon motion of Jno. W. Galloway, of Brunswick, and second by Postmaster McCaskill, of Cumberland.

Nominations were then declared in order and Mr. McCaskill was quickly on his feet discoursing upon the great desirability of overcoming a Democratic majority of 5,000 in the district and pointing the way in the endorsement of E. R. McKeithan as an independent candidate. The party, he said, was confronted with the problem of finding somewhere, somehow 2,500 or 3,000 Democrats who would vote the Republican ticket and he firmly believed the easiest way to reach this most desired end was to nominate Mr. McKeithan. The Republican party had that number of Democratic votes if they were voting their principles instead of their prejudices. His candidate was a man of wealth, of influence, of large family connection in the district, a young lawyer and a vigorous campaigner who could get more of the desired number of votes than any man in the district. He said the Democrats wanted some excuse to vote the Republican ticket; they would not take the medicine without a little sweetening. Their stomachs, he went on, are not prepared for the medicine right now and the idea was to make them swallow the dilution now and in 1908 they would have to take it straight. He promised in behalf of his candidate that he would carry Cumberland and would at once challenge Mr. Godwin for a joint canvass of the district and would meet him on every stump in every county. Mr. McKeithan asked no financial aid but would go it alone. It would be no surrender of principles for the Republicans to nominate him and he hoped the convention would make no nomination on its own account, but endorse the candidacy of Mr. Keithan.

United States Commissioner W. T. Pinner, of Southport, was the warmest number in the convention. He had been heard at the preliminary session in opposition to a recess, but he was not at his best until the adjourned session. He was strongly in favor of endorsing McKeithan as an expedient. "Anything to beat the Democratic party" was the burden of his song. Red dog, monkey and coon were some of the favorite figures of speech in his vocabulary in this connection. He defined himself as one of those "Rigid Republicans," and characterized the Democrats—some of them at least—as sneaks and scoundrels. It was really the only bitter, abusive speech of the convention. He heartily endorsed Mr. McKeithan as "Anything to beat the Democrats."

S. A. Edmund, of Robeson, would not vote for a red dog; neither would he vote for a coon. He thanked the Lord the negro was out of politics and the Republican party didn't propose to take him into partnership again. He was opposed to endorsing any candidate unless he came over on a straight-out platform as a straight Republican.

John W. Galloway wanted to put the stamp of "golden" on what Mr. Edmund said.

J. McKoy Byrd, of Harnett, made one of the most earnest appeals of the convention, opposing any endorsement and favoring the nomination of a "straight out." His eulogy of Spencer B. Adams, the State chairman, brought forth great applause. Up in Harnett they had used independents as long as they were any good. They were going to carry the county ticket up there this time and he wanted everything straight from Congress down. He attacked McKeithan's record in a previous campaign when he made one speech and then withdrew.

R. S. White, of Bladen, was in the midst of a speech against endorsement when Commissioner Pinner, of Brunswick, hopped out in front of the chairman and threateningly replied to what he characterized a personal attack by the gentleman from Bladen. Hot words were exchanged between the two, and the chairman smilingly and menacingly called for order. It was really the fun of the meeting. Mr. Pinner is short, quick and vivacious. His opponent, Mr. White, is reserved, cool and collected. The interchange of compliments between the two, while at no time acute, was amusing. Mr. White contended that there was little consolation in beating a Democrat with a Democrat and he was opposed to the endorsement of Mr. McKeithan. Before Mr. White was through, Mr. Pinner delivered a parting shot by interrupting to move that no delegate be allowed to speak over two minutes and a half. Mr. White, however, continued. Postmaster Meares, of Clarkton, arose to a point of order upon a further interruption by Mr. Pinner and the question was called on the en-

SEABOARD ROADBED

Corporation Commission Issues Report on Its Recent Inspection of Carolina Central.

CONDITIONS NOT THE BEST

Need of Heavier Rail Drainage Surfacing, Etc.—State Text Book Commission Adopts Course of Instruction in Schools.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 28.—The North Carolina Corporation Commission issued to-day its report on the condition of the Carolina Central division of the Seaboard Air Line between Hamlet and Wilmington, the report being based on the inspection the Commission made last week on complaints from citizens that the road was unsafe and in dangerous condition. The report sets out that "The road is not in good condition, the rails are light, being fifty pound and old, having been in use probably since 1882. Many cross ties are defective and the roadbed soft from need of drainage.

"It is claimed that the condition of the road bed is primarily due to recent excessive rains, and asserted by the superintendent and road master with apparent confidence that with prudent operation of trains the road is not in dangerous condition. In proof of this assertion they say that with eight trains passing over it daily and such extras as are run there had been but three derailments within the past twelve months, and that only one of these could in any way be attributed to the condition of the track. These officers reported to the Commissioners that by a recent order there is no limit put upon them by the management as to the amount of labor that may be worked on this line to keep ditches open, and that they were working at that time about fifty-five hands in cleaning out ditches and draining the road.

"The general superintendent also assured the Commissioners that the company had arranged to replace the old light rails now on this road with new and heavier rails early in 1907, and that by this time the road will be put in thoroughly good condition.

"The Commissioners are of opinion that the freedom from accidents which this road has enjoyed is attributable to the prudent management of those operating their trains and to the fact that the road is so straight, being in this line of road the longest straight line of track in the State, rather than to the safe condition of the road bed. But the defendant is now doing and promises to continue to prosecute the work which the Comsion would require; namely, drain the road and surface it as soon as the conditions and weather will permit and replace the old and light rails with new and heavier ones and put the road in thoroughly good condition; and this to be completed in the early part of 1907."

The State Text Book Commission to-night made public the list of text books adopted for use in the public schools for the next five years. Those adopted are as follows:

There Was No Quorum.

The special meeting of the Board of Audit and Finance was not held last night on account of the lack of a quorum. Only Chairman McQueen, Mr. Yates and Mr. Meares, the clerk, were in attendance. The object of the meeting was to arrange for a few hundred tons more of the material from the city rock quarry in order that the Red Cross street improvement may continue to the hospital. It is probable that arrangements will be made for the extra rock without the formality of a full meeting of the Board.

Hanover Seaside Club.

The Star acknowledges with thanks the receipt of an invitation to attend the opening of the Hanover Seaside Club at Wrightsville Beach on Thursday of this week, beginning at 8 o'clock. Very attractive invitations have been issued for the event and a large number of guests are expected, including the membership of the other social clubs at Wrightsville, the Carolina and Atlantic. The committees are at work on the various features of entertainment and the affair promises to be a delightful one in every respect.

SIMPLIFIED SPELLING.

With President Roosevelt boosting Mr. Andrew Carnegie's scheme to simplify the spelling of English, and press agents coming to the aid of the movement, we presume that "reform spelling" is bound to be introduced. As if to bolster up Mr. Carnegie and the President, a New York Associated Press dispatch to the Star on Monday told us that the simplified spelling board on Monday announced that two distinguished British scholars had accepted membership to tetsify their sympathy with the new movement to improve English orthography. One is Dr. J. A. H. Murray, the senior editor of the Great Oxford Dictionary of the English Language, of which the associate editor is Henry Bradley, who joined the simplified spelling board some weeks ago. The other is Professor Joseph Wright, editor of the English Dialect Dictionary. In announcing these elections Brander Mathews, chairman of the board, said: "The simplified board now contains the editors of the three chief English dictionaries published in Great Britain. It has as original members the editors of the three chief Aferican dictionaries, Webster, The Century and the Standard."

If authorities like those mentioned are going to adopt the new system of spelling, we may as well go to learning how to spell the simple way correctly. For fear that some confusion might arise because President Roosevelt has issued an edict to have the Republic adopt the new spelling system, that is "officially," the Washington Post says:

"Another view of this great question of spelling reform reveals the fact that while our President has assumed full responsibility for it, as he has a way of doing when he espouses any cause of whose justness he has become convinced, the real culprit, if so we are to consider this thing, is Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie, we are told, 'financed' the undertaking, and it follows that had he not done so the enterprise would be floundering in the initial stages of experimentation.

"From the shining heights of Skibo in Scotland, Mr. Carnegie cables to the New York World: 'Delighted, but not surprised. Just like him. Man of progress. Wise to see, bold to adopt every improvement." With characteristic and becoming modesty the canny Andrew takes none of the credit unto himself. Wherefore, we say of Andrew: 'Delighted, but not surprised. Jus' like him. Man of progress. Wise to see," etc. At the same time a sense of fairness impels us to ascribe to Andrew Carnegie full and unbounded credit for the phoneticism that has been injected into our speech by Executive order. We do this in order that the genius of history may have no excuse to commit an unpardonable blunder when making up the record after the heat and fury of the conflict now raging have been succeeded by a philosophical spirit and philological reflection.

"The process of reasoning by which the conclusion favorable to Mr. Carnegie has been reached is ismple; In fact, rudimentary. It runs thus: Had Andrew Carniegie not been the possessor of numerous millions of dollars and a desperate spirit to distribute them benevolently before he dies, in order that he may not die disgraced, the Amalgamated Spelling Reform Association (Limited) would not have been financed; had the Amalgamated Spelling Reform Association (Limited) not been financed, it could not have, or mayhap would not have, achieved the great victory over the evil forces of abominable orthography that is now speeding its fame around the world; but for the fortuitous juxtaposition of coal and iron in the Pittsburg district Andrew Carnegie would not have been able to amass the numerous millions which he is determined to squander in riotous benevolence before he joins the innumerable caravan of poor men on the other side.

"One more thought obtrusively links itself into this chain of reasoning. We fain would keep it out, but logic is inexorable. So we inhospitably welcome it. It is this: Had there been no—are you following us? We hesitate to mention it. But here goes: Had there been no protective tariff, Andrew Carnegie would not now be disbursing millions in charity and for the uplifting of the race from the shining heights of Skibo. Ergo, the protective tariff divides honors with Mr. Carnegie for the injection of phoneticism into the mother tongue by Executive order. Wherefore, again and all together: Hurrah for the protective tariff! No wonder this is an era of standpatism."

LIABLE TO MAKE THE DOLLAR VALUABLE.

The Washington Post drops this remark by the wayside: "When Secretary Shaw is denouncing trusts, he might clinch his argument, if he only will, by giving his personal experience with the silver trust, the London concern which raises the price on the Treasury each succeeding Wednesday."

The Post is making this suggestion to High Price Shaw and it's a shame to try to make him kick against high priced silver, considering the fact that it was Shaw who declared in the last campaign that he "hoped never to see a return to low prices again."

—By ordering Roger Sullivan off the national committee just because he is the president of a gas company, Mr. Bryan has laid himself open to the charge of professional jealousy.—Washington Post.

—Man has to be humbugged if one would command him, and he has no use for the humble person. The way to go into a publisher's or editor's office (or, indeed, any other with a man at the head of it) is with a tremendous show of bounce and swagger.—"A Spinster," in M. A. P.

—A reporter for the Lewiston Journal, a stanch Republican and Prohibition sheet, has recently visited the Penobscot metropolis in search of the exact facts, and he reports: "Bangor is neither wide open nor tight shut. Liquor can be had in nearly every street of the business section. In addition it can be had in very many streets of the residential section. . . . There are about thirty places running; they are selling hard stuff, and most of them beer. The stranger has no difficulty in locating them. No one who enters them and has the price of his toddy is refused." The editor vouches personally for the exact truth of these statements.—Boston Transcript.

TWINKLINGS.

—"What makes you think Blinks hasn't any troubles?" "Because he never has any to tell."—Detroit Free Press.

—"Has he any bad habits?" "Only one." "Which is?" "That of boasting that he has no bad habits."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—Giles—Green tried to break a $10 bill last night. Miles—Didn't he succeed? Giles—No; it was too elastic; but he managed to tear it.—Chicago News.

—Tommy—Paw, did Job have stone bruises on his heels? Mr. Tucker—Probably not. Tommy—Gee! What did he know about sufferin'?—Chicago Tribune.

—"Let me see," said she, "what is it you call these men who run automobiles?" "Pardon me," replied the gallant man, "I'm too much of a gentleman to tell you what I call them."—Philadelphia Ledger.

—"I want you to join a society for the suppression—" "I'll join no society for the suppression—" 'Hold on! This is a society for the suppression of societies for the suppression of anything."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The North Carolina troops which were in camp at Chicamauga returned to the State on Monday.

—Articles of incorporation were issued at Raleigh on Monday to the Grace Furniture Company, of Salisbury, with $100,000 capital, for the manufacture of furniture. The principal stockholders are N. B. McCanless, N. W. Collett and others.

—In the Superior Court in Halifax county, at Scotland Neck, last week, Judge Neal sentenced a white man to six months on the public roads for trying to intimidate a witness who was summoned to court to give evidence against colored men charged with selling liquor without license.

—Bennettsville (S. C.) Democrat: Bob Smalls, the (North Carolinian) white man who was sentenced to be hung at Darlington to-day, has had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment. The jury that tried him done him great injustice—he was poor, ignorant, a stranger, and, with all, was drunk.

—Lumberton Robesonian: The tobacco buyers are holding forth at the Lumberton warehouse. The American, Imperial and independent companies are represented. Prices are good and the buyers are trying to make it to the farmers' interest to bring their tobacco here.

—Early Sunday morning Jesse Hudson, colored, of Tarboro, committed suicide by drowning himself in a small stream in East Tarboro. Hudson tied his hands securely behind him and also tied a brick around his neck. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the negro deliberately committed suicide. He was ill for some time, and his mind was deranged.

—Lumberton Robesonian: A report comes from one section of the county that the mosquitoes are so bad that they have driven all the foxes from the woods into the corn fields. One gentleman saw four at one time and they made no effort at all to get away just walked off. While examining their tracks two more passed by in two feet of where he was standing.

—Elizabeth City Special, August 27: Elizabeth City has joined in the crusade against immoral and indecent advertising. Mayor Leigh decided that the sleeping woman advertising medicine was too vulgar to be exposed to public gaze and ordered it hidden; so all over town to-day large pieces of paper were pasted over the picture. There was no opposition to the movement.

—Hamlet Special, August 27: Jim Hodges, who shot and killed Marvin Butler at Spring Hill, three miles south of here Saturday, a week ago, was given a preliminary hearing before Esquire J. T. Atkinson Saturday. The evidence was such that the court sent the prisoner to jail without bail. Hodges claims self-defense as the reason for the shooting and it is understood his lawyers will go before a judge and ask bail for him.

—Durham Special, August 27: Court convened here this morning. There are one hundred and seventy-five cases on docket, something over fifty of these being in jail. One of the most important cases is against a negro named Freeman, charged with burglary and attempt at criminal assault. He entered the home of an aged lady in East Durham and dragged her into the yard, this being about 3 o'clock in the night time. He is to be tried for his life.

—State Insurance Commissioner Young has issued another call to the North Carolina policy-holders of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York and the New York Life Insurance Company to attend in person or send proxy to the meeting to be held in Raleigh September 12th preparatory for action by North Carolina policy-holders in the matter of the election of directors at the New York meeting on the 18th of December.

—Last week Miss Victoria Griffin, of Griffin's township, Martin county, while strolling down the road noticed some dogs who were raising a disturbance over something at the end of the lane. On investigating she found a deer held at bay by the dogs. Driving them away she advanced to the deer and alone and unaided led the frightened animal to her father's house where it is now. Miss Griffin has in this short time succeeded in taming the deer, and now at present writing it is as gentle as a kitten.

—Raleigh News and Observer, August 28: There is joyous news for Raleigh this morning and this that it is soon to be rid of the nuisance of having three telephone systems to contend with, three bells ringing at one time. A call was issued last night for a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association to-night at 8:30, this meeting to hear the report of the committee appointed to look after the telephne situation in Raleigh with the purpose of having the number reduced. The information given was that one of the telephone systems was to cease to do business in Raleigh, but which system is to shut up shop and "skidoo" was not told.

—F. L. Hamilton, of Rocky Mount, who was an employe of the Southern Railway running out of Spencer, was killed by a train at Lexington Saturday night. He was taken to Salisbury in a dying condition and expired soon after reaching the hospital. Hamilton was a brakeman and was on top of the train when he fell between the cars which cut off both legs and inflicted other injuries. The remains were sent to his former home at Rocky Mount for interment.

—Salisbury Special, August 27: A regular term of Rowan Superior Court convened to-day with Judge Ferguson presiding. A large number of criminal cases are on the docket, but the most important case for trial at this term is that of George Irvin, Henry Gillespie and Della Dillingham, the surviving alleged murderers of the Lyerly family. The trio which was rescued from a mob on August 6th is now in jail at Charlotte for safe keeping. Several cases against alleged lynchers will also be heard at this term of court.

—Newbern Special, August 27: The work on the Washington and Newbern branch of the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound Railway is progressing well. The grading is completed from Newbern to Vanceboro and the distance between the latter place and Washington has been cleared and much of it graded. The rails for the tracking have arrived and the steam machinery for facilitating the work will be put in operation this week. It is estimated that there are 1,000 men at work on the road. They are all encamped along the line. Most of them are negroes. It is believed that trains will be running over the line from Newbern to Washington by February 1st.

—Asheville Special, August 27: Mrs. M. Franklin Malloy, in charge of the Franklin Humanitarian Home, near Black Mountain, was struck and instantly killed by a helper engine on the Asheville division of the Southern, between Swannanoa Station and Black Mountain, this morning. Mrs. Malloy had spent the night in Black Mountain with the McKoy family, and returning home was walking the track when the accident occurred. Mrs. Malloy was from Connecticut, and was engaged in a most humane work in Western North Carolina. She was in charge of the Franklin Humanitarian Home, a refuge for sufferers from tuberculosis, and was well known and highly esteemed.

—The first legal execution in Newbern since the war will take place Friday, August 31st, when Alfred Bailey, colored, the murderer of John M. Lancaster, will be hanged. The gallows is the one on which Cyrus Dixon, the murderer of Herman Webber, and Alfred Daniels, the murderer of Senator Simmons' father, met death. It is the property of Jones county and is loaned by the sheriff for this purpose. The place of execution will be in the jail yard within a much higher enclosure than there is now. Sheriff Biddle is besieged for cards of admission to witness the hanging, but has promised them all long ago, as he is allowed to issue only 36 cards. The prisoner is stolid and indifferent to his fate and seemingly unrepentant of his crime.

—High Point Special, August 27: The Corporation Commission met with the manufacturers here this afternoon and as a result it is believed that from now on the situation will be relieved so as to cause little trouble during the busy season. The railroad people stated that they were doing all in their power to relieve the situation and that they had made requisition on foreign companies for cars which, with those on their company, would give the shippers all they wanted in a few days. In fact, several cars arrived here today. The manufacturers do not want to antagonize the Southern and they accept its seeeming willingness at par believing now that it is made in good faith, since all hands have looked thoroughly into the matter and seen how badly High Point manufacturers were in need of cars.

—Raleigh News and Observer, August 28: The summons to appear before Judge Webb in chambers at Smithfield on Saturday, September 10, was yesterday served by Deputy Sheriff H. H. Crocker upon Mayor James I. Johnson and each member of the Board of Aldermen as a result of the petition of Rev. S. J. Betts and others in the matter of a mandamus asked to compel the aldermen of Raleigh to order an election between dispensary and prohibition. When the Betts petition for an election was some time ago presented to the Board of Aldermen, on the advice of City Attorney Snow, the Board refused to order this election on the ground that according to the wording of the Watts act there was no authority to call an election on the question of dispensary or prohibition while a town had a dispensary which had been voted in as against open bar-rooms.

—A block of wooden stores, in one of which was the Grifton dispensary, were burned early Sunday morning at Grifton, entailing a property loss of $8,000 or $10,000, with insurance to cover two-thirds of the amount. The fire broke out at 2 o'clock Sunday morning in a pool room. Many express the opinion that it was of incendiary origin. The glass fronts to the more pretentious stores or block across the street were all broken and the goods and buildings damaged to the amount of $500 or more, being fully covered by insurance. Among the losers are J. R. Harvey & Co., J. Z. Brooks, McCotter Bros. and A. L. Jackson & Co., who lost small amounts each. A large part of the $2,500 stock of liquors in the Grifton dispensary was removed from the building, but was destroyed or stolen, and only $700 worth was finally saved. There was was n authority to call an election on $2,000 insurance; so the dispensary will not lose.

—The Lumberton Robesonian, noting the probate of the will of the late Mr. Berry Godwin, of Lumberton says: "With the exception of probably about $20,000 all the estate is in real estate and its exact value is hard to get at. However, it is estimated at various amounts from $200,000 to a quarter of a million dollars. In dividing his property Mr. Godwin is said to have tried to divide it in three equal shares. With the exception of $2,000 in money, which he left to his niece, Sidney Godwin, all his property was left to his daughter Mrs. Edna Griffith, of Greensboro; Mrs. Margaret French McLean, wife of Mr. A. W. McLean, and Mr. G. G. French, grandchildren, of Lumberton. During her natural life Mrs. Griffith gets 500 acres of land in Thompson township, known as the John Rowland place; six lots in town of Lumberton. Also portions of other lots. Mrs. McLean received the household and kitchen furniture, wearing apparel and effects except gold watch and chain, which was left to Mr. Geo. G. French. In land she gets about a dozen lots and portions of other lots in Lumberton; 78 acres on northside of Whiteville road; 2,500 acres on both sides of Fayetteville road; 50 acres on eastside Fayetteville road; 240 acres on westside Fayetteville road, all north of town. To his grandson, Mr. Geo. G. French, he left 2,500 acres of land on both sides of Fayetteville road; 77 1-2 acres on Carolina Central railroad; all lands pieces or parcels in Lumberton formerly belonging to J. C. Smith; also parts of other lots. At Mrs. Griffith's death her property goes to the other two named.

Still Ahead in Low Prices

Our regular prices are much cheaper than any special prices yet advertised. Our goods are NEW. The following shows how and why we do and can undersell.

Discount on account of large purchases, average,	10 pr. ct
Discount for cash (we pay cash), average	10 pr. ct
Savings of freight on car shipment, average	5 pr. ct
Total,	25 pr. ct

As you see, we can sell goods at a profit of 25 per cent. and at the same time sell them for just what they would cost us if we bought in small quantities, paid local freight and bought on time. We do not try to make 25 per cent.

Our claim is corroborated by the number of prudent purchasers we send. For June the 1st to the present, we have sold $4,540.21 worth of goods, received more than $3,300.00 in cash. Our books are open for inspection of any doubters. When in need of furniture come to headquarters.

MRS. SARAH C. CARLYLE DEAD.

Esteemed Woman of Lumberton, Died Yesterday—A Marriage.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., August 28.—Mrs. Sarah C. Carlyle, one of the most highly esteemed and most sincere Christian ladies in this section, died at the residence of her son here this morning, aged about sixty-eight years. While she had been in declining health for some time, she had only been confined to her room about ten days. She is survived by one son, Mr. W. W. Carlyle, and one daughter, Mrs. R. D. Caldwell; also a large number of relatives in the county. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon from the Gospel Tabernacle, Rev. A. B. Crumpler, of Clinton, officiating.

At a quiet home wedding here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Miss Eunice J. Bridgers, a charming and popular daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Bridgers, was united in marriage to Rev. D. Stephenson, of Maryland, Rev. Mr. Barrett, of Durham, performing the ceremony. The newly wed couple left on the 5:35 train for points in Virginia where they will spend a month. They will be at home at Lonaconing, Md., after September 30th.

CALL FOR PRIMARIES.

Official Notice By Chairman J. H. Burriss Issued Yesterday.

Elsewhere in to-day's Star will be found the official call for the Democratic primaries for county officers and one member of the General Assembly to be held in New Hanover on September 19th. While the lower House is included in the call, there will be no opportunity for the people to give an expression of their will as to who will represent them in the State Senate in common with Brunswick county. This nomination will be made in a Senatorial convention, to be held later in Brunswick county, Chairman Boney, of the recent New Hanover convention, naming the delegates thereto. Chairman Burriss left last night for New York to attend the Bryan reception and could not be seen as to when he and Chairman Bellamy, of Brunswick, will call the convention. All the necessary information is given in the call to be found in another column, which is signed by Chairman Burriss to whom the authority was delegated by the County Executive Committee.

Mr. Hankins Suffers Attack.

Friends of Mr. A. G. Hankins, one of Wilmington's most respected citizens, will regret to learn that he suffered a stroke of paralysis yesterday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock. He was going to the postoffice from the Odd Fellows' building when the attack came upon him. He was carried immediately to Dr. D. W. Bulluck's office in the Southern building, where Dr. Bulluck treated the sufferer. After an examination was made it was discovered that Mr. Hankins had sustained an attack of facial paralysis, the entire left side of the face being affected. Later he was sent to his home.

Wedded Here Yesterday at Noon.

An interesting wedding was celebrated in this city yesterday at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. E. J. Hardison, on Chesnut, between Fifth and Sixth streets, the parties to the marriage vow being Miss Elizabeth J. Hardison and Mr. L. R. Mason, of Middle Sound, the groom being the venerable father of the well-known New Hanover family of the same name. The ceremony was performed by Justice G. W. Bornemann in the presence of a few friends, after which the bride and groom left for their home on the Sound.

Big Educational Rally.

All arrangements are complete for the big educational rally on Middle Sound to-day and if the weather is at all favorable an immense crowd will be present. There will be addresses by several, including State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner and County Superintendent Catlett and an old-fashioned basket picnic and fish fry. The public generally is invited.

REPUBLICANS NAME J. BYRON SCHULKEN.

Concluded From First Page.

dorsement of Mr. McKeithan. The counties voted as follows:

	For.	Against.
Brunswick		7
Bladen		6
Columbus		8
Cumberland	11
Robeson		9
New Hanover		2
Harnett		8
Total	11	40

The motion was declared lost and Mr. McCaskill quoted some poet and the convention was declared ready for nominations. Bladen yielded to Columbus and Mr. Tucker, in a brief but very pleasing speech nominated Mr. Schulken, whom he declared an honorable Republican, a straight-out and a man above reproach in politics, in religion and in all other relations of life. Mr. Tucker said he was authorized not only to nominate Mr. Schulken and say that he would accept, but that he would make a canvass of the district and would do it well for he was a man who never does things by halves. Jno. W. Galloway named Robert W. Davis, Esq., of Brunswick, but Mr. Davis had withdrawn and Brunswick county asked the honor of seconding the nomination of Mr. Schulken. Mr. McCaskill, of Cumberland, also endorsed Mr. Schulken upon the call of Cumberland and pledged the best effort of Republicans in that county to elect him. Mr. Byrd, of Harnett, placed the name of J. M. Coates in nomination, strongly commending him to the district. Upon the call of Robeson, S. A. Edmund strongly endorsed Mr. Schulken. D. B. Sutton spoke at length in the same tenor for Bladen. Mr. Pinner, of Southport, hopped on the band wagon as the vote was about to be called and strongly endorsed the Columbus man, paying him a sincere tribute, he avowed.

The vote was called and Mr. Coates, of Harnett, who had been nominated, withdrew and moved that the nomination of Mr. Schulken be by acclamation. The motion was unanimously carried and the nomination of Mr. Schulken was declared without a dissenting voice.

It was moved then that a recess be taken until after supper and that Mr. Schulken, who was understood to be in Wilmington, be sent for to address the convention. Mr. Schulken was a guest at The Orton, but on account of a business engagement could not go down.

The night session was a rather tame affair. The Executive Committee for the district was named as follows: J. M. Meshaw, of Bladen; R. W. Davis, of Brunswick; William Struthers, of Columbus; A. L. McCaskill, of Cumberland; J. M. Coates, of Harnett; T. E. Wallace, of New Hanover, and S. A. Edmund, of Robeson. The following committee was also named to officially notify Mr. Schulken of his nomination by the convention, viz: McCaskill, of Cumberland; Taylor, of Brunswick; Wallace, of New Hanover, and Tucker, of Columbus. The convention then adjourned sine die.

BIG EXCURSION YESTERDAY.

Between Six and Eight Hundred Visitors From Goldsboro.

Between six and eight hundred excursionists were here yesterday from Goldsboro and intermediate points on the excursion run by the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of that city. The visitors had a very rainy day of it at the beach and in the city, but appeared to have enjoyed their stay greatly. There were nearly 200 Juniors in the party and they were the guests of the two councils of Wilmington, which were represented by committees of reception. The committees met the visitors at the depot and accompanied them to the beach, where refreshments were served. It was quite an enjoyable day not only for the Goldsboro Juniors, but for those of Wilmington as well. The train returned to Goldsboro last night at 8 o'clock.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Services First Church of Christ, Scientist, this evening at 8:15 o'clock, Odd Fellows' building, second floor. All are invited.

—The postponed August regatta of the Carolina Yacht Club will be sailed over the regular club course on Friday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock. There will be six entries and a spirited contest is assured.

—The Star is requested by Commodore J. VanB. Metts to say that members of the Carolina Yacht Club are invited to the opening of the Hanover Seaside Club, on Wrightsville Beach, Thursday night of this week. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock.

Injury to Personal Property.

In Justice Bornemann's court yesterday Romeo Hall, driver of an ice wagon, was charged with wilful injury to personal property in that he ran into and smashed a wagon belonging to Lewis Gardner. The "judge" settled the matter between the men amicably and all differences were paid together with the costs of the action, of course.

NEGRO CONSUL'S BAD BREAK.

Had to Resign for Making Unwarranted and Alarming Report.

Washington, August 27.—G. Jarvis Bowens has resigned as American consul at Guadeloupe, French West Indies. He left the service shortly after the rioting in Guadeloupe which caused him to send alarming reports and this is believed to have been the cause of his withdrawal from the service. Bowens is a negro and was appointed from Virginia and went to the post at Guadeloupe, June 24th, 1905. His successor has not yet been appointed.

BANK FAILURE IN PHILADELPHIA

Real Estate Trust Company Went to Wall With Liabilities of $10,000,000.

PRESIDENT MAY BE SUICIDE

Died Suddenly Last Friday and His Death Revealed Insolvency of Bank —Loaned $5,300,000 On Almost Worthless Collateral.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, August 28.—Unable to meet its obligations because of the large amount of money loaned on insufficient securities by its president, now dead, the Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia which, up to last Saturday was considered one of the strongest financial institutions in the city, closed its doors to-day. Soon after the doors closed George H. Earle, Jr., a prominent financier, was appointed receiver. The liabilities of the company are placed at $10,000,000, against which there are quick assets of about $3,500,000, and collateral of about $8,000,000 which is not negotiable or readily convertible.

This doubtful collateral is held mostly as security for loans of about $5,300,000 made to Adolf Segal, a promoter, of this city. The man responsible for the failure was Frank K. Hipple, one of Philadelphia's best known citizens who died suddenly last Friday in his country home at Bryn Mawr near here, under circumstances which, in the light of today's developments lead to the suspicion that he may have committed suicide. Mr. Hipple, in addition to being president of the Real Estate Trust Company, was treasurer of the board of trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States and of several other church funds, and was a director of the Franklin National Bank. Recently Mr. Hipples accounts of the Presbyterian church were examined by certified accountants and were found to be correct, but it cannot be stated positively tonight whether all these securities belonging to the General Assembly are intact.

In addition to the deposits of the General Assembly, the Real Estate Trust also had about $25,000 of funds placed here by Dr. Roberts as stated clerk of the General Assembly. The Presbyterian Hospital of Philadelphia and the Presbyterian Board of Relief also had sums of money in the failed institution. The securities of the General Assembly, amounting to $963,-896 were in Hipple's custody.

For the loans to Adlf Segal Hipple accepted as collateral securities of the Majestic Hotel, a big new apartment house, operated by Segal; the Swedish Steel Company, of Lancaster, Pa., and the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company of this city. The steel company and the sugar refining concern have never been placed in operation. Segal claims the colalteral he gave is god and that he will meet all his obligations. There are others to whom Hipple loaned money on insufficient security but the names have not been made public and the sums are not beleive to be large. How far Hipple benefited in the loans made or whether he was merely the tool of others is yet to be determined. All the directors are silent on that point and also on the question of whether there will be any criminal prosecutions. In order to hide the true condition of the company and save himself Hipple resorted to the falsification of his reports. He used what the receiver termed a "double system" of making reports. When the State bank examiner called Hipple presented to him good securities to offset the loans made and when the president made his reports to the directors he would show them a bundle of other securties and other paper and along with these he would exhibit the certificate of the bank examiner which showed that the accounts the examiner had investigated were correct. The directors, supposing the securities shown them were the same, approved the reports. Among these directors are Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the eminent author; John H. Converse, of the Baldwin Locomotive Works; John F. Befs, the millionaire brewer; William A. Patton, assistant to President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania aRilroad; former Superior Court Judge W. W. Porter; R. Dale, Benson, president of the Pennsylvania Fire Insurance Company; Joseph D. Junkin, an attorney, Edward P. Borden, Samuel F. Houston, who is also vice president of the company, former State Senator J. Bayard Henry and Frank C. Roberts.

As soon as the directors were informed of the death of Hipple they began an investigation of their affairs and were shocked when they learned the true condition of his acocunts. This was after the close of business on Friday. A meeting of the board was hurriedly called and it was decided to instruct the officers of the bank that all deposits received after the opening of business Saturday morning should be set aside and deposited with the Franklin National Banp in the names of the individuals presenting the money. This was done to absolve the directors from criminal proceedings for receiving money after they knew the trust company was insolvent. On Monday more than $160,000 was deposited by patrons of the bank which was practically offset by withdrawals by persons who had heard rumors of the company's condition. The money deposited since Saturday will, however, not be returned to the depositors but will lie in the Franklin National Bank until the courts have decided whether it should be paid back.

While the depositors were supposedly placing their money with the Real Estate Trust Company the directors were making strenuous efforts to tide the institution over the difficulty. All day yesterday they worked but it became apparent shortly after noon today that the crash was inevitable. Application papers for a temporary receiver were prepared and left at the offices of the trust company after which the directors went to the meeting of the clearing house association to make a last appeal for help. The newspapers were aware of the trend of events and had men stationed at the bank building ready to flash the closing of the bank if it occurred. There were probably fifty bank presidents at the Clearing House to meet the directors of the trust company. The latter stated that they needed $7,000,-000, but the best the banks could do was to guarantee $3,500,000. This was not enough and as all other means for getting money had failed Vice President Houston telephoned to the bank to suspend business and send the receivership papers to court.

In an incredibly short time the story was on the street and created great consternation. Hundreds of persons gathered about the building clamoring for information and the crowd grew so great that a detail of police was sent for to clear the street. There was no disorder.

The application for the receivers says that the company has a paid up capital of $1,500,000, an apparent surplus of an equal amount and deposits of about $10,000,000. The assets consist of real estate in Philadelphia, loans upon collateral upon demand and on time and other securties. President Hipple, the application says, "by false reports to the directors of the loans made by him, brought about the condition of the company which was first discovered by the officers of the bank subsequent to the leath of the president. The court then appointed Mr. Earle receiver and he entered security to the amount of $1,900,000. He thinks the bank can be saved.

Samuel F. Houston, vice president of the company, said tonight that no other banking institution in this or any other city would be in the least affected by the failure.

The late Frank K. Hipple was one of the best known financiers of this city.

Persistent rumors that President Hipple committed suicide were borne out tonight when it was authoritatively stated that he took his life at his home last Friday morning. Mr. Hipple is said to have taken a dose of laudanum with suicidal intent. While conscious he filled his bath tub with water and later was found apparently drowned.

Mr. Hipple's family decline to make any statement on the subject and the physicians interested in the case decline to be interviewed on the suicide theory.

Enlightened Methods in Life Insurance.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York, has just distributed some official information in the form of a statement which would be quite unprecedented in the history of life insurance were it not for the fact that this same institution has before treated its policy-holders to similar surprises.

The Company announces that it has declared and is paying a cash dividend upon its Industrial Policies maturing in 1906, amounting to more than two millions of dollars. The full significance of this action is apparent when the nature of the Metropolitan Life's insurance contract is understood. This Company is in no sense Mutual. It does not "estimate" or guess at what it will be able to pay an insured person when his Policy matures, but agrees to pay a definite, specified premium paid by the insured according to contract. In other words, it sells insurance at what the protection is worth —not as an investment nor as a speculation. Upon this basis the cost to the person insured is, of course, determined by past experience, and as the factor of competition prevents the exaction of too high a rate, the premiums must always be as low as safe administration of the business will permit.

It may be assumed, then, that a policy-holder in the Metropolitan Life has bought a definite amount of insurance at the lowest market rate, has agreed to pay for it in definite sums at definite intervals, and has no more expectation of extra benefits than he would have in buying fire insurance or a house on similar terms.

It happens, however, that this policy-holder is associated with a Company that, by skillful management, has had phenomenal growth and prosperity, and as the actual cost of individual insurance decreases with each year's increase in volume of business, there has arisen a profit which the Company gives back to the source when it came —though no obligation to do so, implied or expressed, exists in its contracts. It has thus distributed approximately ten millions of dollars within the past few years, and it is a significant indication of the Company's present condition that the voluntary dividend of two millions now being paid is the largest yet declared in any one year.

It need not be assumed that the Metropolitan Life desires to pose as a philanthropic institution. Undoubtedly its growth in popular favor and its tremendous accession of new business year after year are in part due to this voluntary application of profit. It may be "all business," but if so, it is the sort of broad gauge, open handed business that might be widely imitated with good results to all concerned. **

Dividend Announcement

INDUSTRIAL

The Company has just declared a cash mortuary dividend on Policies over 5 years in force which have matured and shall mature in 1906. To all death claims on Policies over 5 years in force it adds 5 per cent; to all death claims on Policies over six years in force, 6 per cent, and an additional 1 per cent for each year o duration. Thus the dividend on claims under Policies over 10 years in force is 10 per cent; over 15 years, 15 per cent; over 20 years, 20 per cent; over 25 years 25 per cent; 1,879 (the earliest issue) 27 per cent. The cost of this dividend payable during the current year is approximately

ONE MILLION TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS

In addition to this the immediate benefits (payable during the six months after date of issue) on adult Industrial Policies, excepting Term and endowment, issued during 1906 have been doubled. Certain increases have also been made in the benefits on infantile Endowment Policies during the first year. The cost of these, which will operate as a dividend on all claims maturing during this year, on the issue of this year, is approximately

ONE HUNDRED AND FIF TY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

These dividends are over and above the dividend declared on Industrial Policies January 1 last, which was a quinquennial cash dividend, amounting to about 20 per cent of the premium for a year, declared on all Policies (except Increasing Life and Endowment Policies, which by their terms carry benefits increasing yearly after the third year) issued in 1881, 1886, 1891, 1896 and 1901. The amount appropriated for this dividend was about

SIX HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Thus the Company THIS YEAR has declared and IS PAYING dividends on Industrial Policies amounting to

Over Two Millions of Dollars

Every one of these Policies is non-participating, promising a definite sum only at maturity, without dividends. The payment of the dividend is PURELY VOLUNTARY. Dividends have been actually paid without promise for many years by the Metropolitan. The total amount now approximates in 12 years. Included among these policies are hundreds of thousands of Policies issued by other companies and assumed by the Metropolitan.

INTERMEDIATE

Intermediate Policies for $500 each have been issued by the Metropolitan for 10 years past. They are Policies designed for such of the Industrial classes as can afford to pay annual, semi-annual or quarterly premiums instead of weekly. As the plan was new there was no actuarial experience to guide the Company as to themortality cost. The Company promised to pay, if earned, dividends after five years and annually thereafter. This year the Company set aside over to be paid in dividenls on Intermediate Policies during 1906. Payments of these dividends has brought the cost of the Policies very nearly down to the non-participating rates of this and other Ordinary companies.

Six Hundred and Twenty Thousand Dollars

ORDINARY

The Ordinary Policies issued by the Company for the last 15 years have been practically all written on nonparticipating rates—plain business contracts for plain business men, which tell their whole story upon their face, leave nothing to the imagination, borrow nothing from hope require definte conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents. The rates, therefore, are low. The Company has in force, however, a considerable, though, compared with its total business, a very small percentage of participating business. Some of the Policies were issued on annual dividend and some on deferred dividend plans—many of the latter having been issued by other companies and assumed by the Metropolitan. Upon these Policies the Company has this year declared and is paying a dividend equal to the excess premium charged by mutual rates over the non participating rates charged on its current business. The amount of this dividend is nearly TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, which is a voluntary extra dividend.

Thus the amount of dividends the METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY is paying this year is nearly

Three Millions of Dollars

THREE QUARTERS OF WHICH IS A VOLUNTARY GIFT BY THE COMPANY TO ITS PATRONS.

RICHARD BURBAGE.

He Was a Great Actor and Shakespeare's Leading Star.

March 16, 1618 or 1619, Richard Burbage, player, died at Shoreditch, London.

The first of the great English tragic actors, Burbage was in every way worthy to head the long roll of England's famous players. The son of an actor, the friend and companion of Shakespeare, it was through him that many of the heroes of the dramatist first spoke to the eager playgoers who thronged the Globe theater. He was the original of Romeo, Hamlet, Lear, Othello, Macbeth, Shylock, Richard III. and many other of Shakespeare's leading characters, and his name stands next to that of the great poet in the licenses for acting granted by James I. in 1603 to the company of the Globe theater.

His powers as an actor were not his only claim to distinction, for he was also a successful painter. The fame of his abilities held a prominent place in theatrical tradition for many years, a poem in his honor, dedicated to one of the great players of the day, being written as late as the time of Charles II.

His death, which was probably the result of paralysis, caused the poets to turn their thoughts to his successful career, and it is from the numerous elegies then written that most of the information concerning him must be gathered. Few players have ever had the good fortune to be so well liked by the dramatists of their time, and all praised him, one even lamenting that his death "hath made a visible eclipse of playing."

A shrewd, careful man in his business affairs, Burbage left an estate producing a yearly income of £300, a large sum for a player in those days to bequeath to his heirs. Beloved and respected by all, he survived his great master by only a few years, his grave bearing the simple, expressive epitaph, "Exit Burbage."—London Saturday Review.

Nature's Perch Clamp.

"Chickens and other birds roosting on a perch no bigger than a lead pencil never fall off. Do you know why?" said a farmer.

"The tendon of a roosting bird's leg is so constructed that when the leg is bent at the knee the claws have to contract—can't open till the leg is straightened out again.

"Thus a chicken gets on its perch, bends its knee to be comfortable and with that bending locks itself, as with a key, to the wood. It can't fall off. Put a chicken on your finger and then make it sit down. Its claws will clamp your finger tight and be unable to let go until the bird stands up again. Nature, very kindly, has so constructed roosting birds that the act of settling down clamps them to their perch."

Shelley's Heart.

A well known and very prominent English family are the possessors of a remarkable relic in the shape of a human heart preserved in a jar of alcohol. It appears that Shelley, the poet, feared that there was a chance of being buried alive. To guard against any such a contingency he left directions that his heart should be removed immediately after death. The queer relic may still be seen by any one who visits Bascombe manor, Bournemouth, England.

There are two ways of attaining an important end—force and perseverance. Force falls to the lot only of the privileged few, but austere and salutary perseverance can be practiced by the most insignificant. Its silent power grows irresistible with time.—Mme. Swetchine.

ALPINE ROOT DIGGERS.

Their Work of Danger High Up In the Mountains.

Throughout the whole chain of the Alps there are men who make it their business to search for and root up the gentian, arnica, puffballs and other Alpine flowers.

High up in the mountains the root grubber, generally an old man, builds a little hut. He clambers precipices to the edges, where the blue flowers grow; or, if he cannot ascend, he lets himself down to their place of refuge by a rope fastened to a pine above.

He wanders to a long distance from his hut and does not always trouble to return to it at night, finding shelter under a rock. Next morning he spreads all the roots he has collected on a rock, where they may dry.

He collects herbs as well as roots, and the resin from the pine besides. When the summer is over and there are signs of snow, the root grubber collects all together in his little hut and finally transports the whole of his six months' collection to the valley.

The arnica and some other roots used in medicine are readily disposed of. From the gentian is made the favorite gentian brandy, which is considered the very elixir of life by the mountain folk. In other days, when gentians grew in great numbers, the root digger was able to realize a good income from his perilous occupation, but it is otherwise now.—Chambers' Journal.

Slander.

Slander is a poison which extinguishes charity, both in the slanderer and in the person who listens to it, so that a single calumny may prove fatal to an infinite number of souls, since it kills not only those who circulate it, but also all those who do not reject it.—Woman's Life.

THE TIMOROUS KUBUS.

They Live In Sumatra and Are the Shiest People Alive.

There is a very singular race of people in Sumatra, the Kubus, who are too timorous and shy to mix with the other races of the island and dwell in the recesses of the forests. They are looked on as inferiors by the Malays and thought to be little better than beasts. Such is their shyness that they will never willingly face a stranger.

Their trade with the Malayans is consequently carried on in a strange manner. The trader announces his arrival by beating a gong, and he then retires. The Kubus approach, put their forest treasures on the ground, beat a gong and retreat. The trader returns and lays his commodities down in quantities sufficient, as he thinks, for the purchase of the goods on sale. Then he retires, and the Kubus reappear and consider the bargain.

And so, after more withdrawals and approaches and gong beatings, the respective parties come to an understanding and carry off independently their bargains. The Kubus in their wild state do not bury their dead. They live on snakes, grubs, fruits and the flesh of any deer or pigs they can slay. They are skillful spearmen and throw stones with marvelous accuracy.—Pall Mall Gazette.

HARD TO MAKE DOUGLAS MOVE

Hilarious Time Among Greensboro Republicans—County Chairman Requested to Resign—Chairmanship Declared Vacant.

(Raleigh News and Observer.-

Greensboro, N. C., August 25.—Pursuant to a call of the Rebpublican county executive committee by Chairman Douglas to select a time for holding the county convention to nominate legislative and county candidates, a number of members of the committee met here this afternoon and after agreeing on September 15th for the convention, the old-time fight of the insurgents or Blackburnites against the organization forces was renewed. The first shot was a resolution demanding the regisnation of Chairman Editor Postmaster Douglas as head of the county organization. Chairman Douglas submitted the resolution, and it was adopted by a vote of 12 to 5.

Douglas, showing no sign of resigning, W. P. Ragan, defeated aspirant for the High Point postoffice, made a fiery speech in condemnation of Douglas' course as chairman, the room resounding with applause at the close of every volley of hot shot he catapulated at the apparently undaunted and amused presiding officer. After concluding his speech, and receiving no indication of the chairman's appreciation of the situation, Mr. Ragan pulled a document out of his pocket, and dramatically read the following bill of indictment, each count provoking ringing applause, the whole being adopted by a vote of 12 to 5:

"Whereas, at the last State convention held in Greensboro, July 10th, a resolution was adopted calling the Republican State executive committee to meet in Greensboro on September 1st, 1906, and on the first of March and September of each and every year thereafter to consider applications for appointment to Federal offices, and,

"Whereas, the appointment of a postmaster for the city of Greensboro will be made by the President upon the assemblage of Congress in December next; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Republican executive committee of Guilford county, now in regular session assembled upon the call of the chairman of said committee, hereby deplore the recent appointment of Robert D. Douglas as postmaster at said city of Greensboro, and that this committee hereby urges and insists that the State executive committee recommend for appointment for postmaster at Greensboro some other Republican who will be acceptable to the Republicans of the county, and whose appointment will add credit and prestige to the Republican party of the county.

"Be it further resolved, That we condemn the management of party affairs by Chairman R. D. Douglas for the reasons:

"First. For committing the Republican party of this county to the bond issue proposition for road purpses without having called our committee together for consultation and action on this matter.

"Second. For the committing our party to the special school tax election without consulting our committee.

"Third. For long delayed calling this committee together after having promised to call it immediately after the State convention, and failing to inaugurate the campaign promptly, thereby injuring the prospects for the success of our party in the county.

"Fourth. For calling the county convention to elect delegates to the State and Congressional and other conventions without consulting the committee or calling it together for consultation.

"Fifth. For his uncharitable and un-Christian treatment of one of our honored Republicans and former candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and our former candidate for the Legislature, Prof. Cyrus P. Frazier, notwithstanding he was indorsed almost unanimously by this committee and by almost the entire business element of the city of Greensboro without regard to party.

"Sixth. We further condemn R. D. Douglas for usurpation of authority and a general do nothing policy in the management of party affairs."

After this there was another brief wait for Chairanm Douglas to step down, but he did not, whereupon ex-Sheriff J. A. Hoskins arose and introduced a resolution declaring the office of chairman of the executive committee vacant, which resolution was also adopted by a vote of 12 to 5, but Chairman Douglas held his ground and was holding the chair when the meeting adjourned.

SILVER PRICE IS GOING UP

Purchases of Bullion for Coinage by Government May Result in Rise in Work of Jewelers—Already Felt.

(New York Herald.)

Silverware and articles made of plated silver, britannia, pewter, copper, brass and bronze, are advancing in price because of the increased cost of metal. The manufacturers of silverware of all kinds are anxiously watching the result of the government's action in resuming the purchase of silver bullion and say that any further advance in the price of the white metal will necessitate new price lists all around for the coming holiday trade.

One manufacturer said: "Silver has been going up steadily for more than a year, and at only a fraction less than sixty-seven cents an ounce, the ruling price for bar silver the last week, it is ten cents higher than it was early in last year. Three years ago the manufacturers bought bullion for less than 50 cents an ounce. Since then the price of the manufactured ware has gone up only ten per cent."

Britannia wares, which are commonly plated with silver, have been going up, because not only the silver, but other metals are much higher than formerly. Tin brought in the last week more than 41 cents a pound, while a year ago it sold for 33 cents. Antimony has advanced in a year from 15 to 24 cents a pound. Copper, another constituent of britannia, was quoted at 12 cents a pound not many years ago and recently has been selling between 18 and 19 cents a pound.

When the holiday trade opens, according to waht the manufacturers says, the public will meet with higher prices on practically everything in art products made of bronze, brass and copper. Persons who buy for holiday gifts metal lamps, smoking and desk sets, candelabra and hammered and embossel novelties will pay more this year than in preceding years.

Buyers coming from Europe report that the prices abroad are much higher than a year ago. They say that the problem of getting in Europe artistic products to please the American taste has proved exceedingly difficult because of the high market.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, August 26.—Teh cotton market was more active to-day and had a very sharp break under a renewal of bear pressure and liquidation. The close was steady, but at a decline of 22 to 26 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 400,000 bales.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 3 points in response to higher cables and further reports of crop deterioration. Prices worked up to a net advance of about 3 to 4 points on the the call, but there was no sign of im the call, but there was no sign of important bull support and there were rumors that the bull leaders were selling October on the advance. The demand from smaller shorts became less active, consequently, and the market towards midday turned quite easy under selling through wire and commission houses with Southern connections and a renewal of bear pressure, which became more aggressive in the middle of the afternoon and forced the market off to 8.88 for October and 9.05 for December, or about 28 to 29 points down from the top price of the morning. The close was steady on covering, but at practically the lowest point of the session. Weather reports were considered very favorable and the weekly report of the weather bureau failed to indicate any cause for deterioration beyond that expected as the crop approaches maturity.

A condition report on Texas issued by a prominent Southwestern organization reported a deterioration of 8 per cent. for the month, but showed an average well above last year's figures. Southern spot markets were unchanged 1-16c higher.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 9.90; middling gulf 10.15; no sales. Futures closed steady. Prices follows:

FIRST HEARING ON RATE LAW

Railroads Before Inter - State Commerce Commission Yesterday.

ASKED FOR FURTHER TIME

Carriers Will Make No Opposition—Will Obey Law As Soon as They Are in Position To Do So.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, August 28.—Five members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Chairman Knapp and Commisisoners Clements, Cockrell and Lane were present today at the initial hearing under the new railroad freight rate law.

The law recently enacted by Congres became effective today. Under its terms the carriers of the country were expected to be prepared today to meet its requirements and to comply as far as possible with its essential provisions. Already tons of tariff rate schedules have been filed with the Commission by the various railroads and common carrier, lines of the country, and additional tariffs are being received by the Commission in every mail. They have indicated to the Commission their desire to meet the provisions of the law without unnecessary obstruction or opposition, although they have indicated that in some respects, it will be impossible for them to comply with the letter of the law until such time as the Commission shall rule as to certain phases of the act.

The Commisison today begins its work under the operation of the law which increases the salary of its members from $7,500, to $10,000 per annum.

The four Commissioners who are in Washington conducted the hearing in the rooms of the Commission. The trunk line, New England and Central railroads were heard, through their representatives, as to some phases of the operation of the new rate law. Thirty-four representatives of these railroads including traffic officials and counsel, and eight representatives of various shipping organizations were in attendance upon the hearing. Every speaker, representing the railroads, informed the Commission that the railroads of the country had no disposition to lay obstacles in the way of its enforcement of the act and the speakers vied with one another in assuring the Commission of their intention to comply with the provisions of the law in every substantial particular.

B. D. Caldwell, a vice president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road told the Commisison that through conferences with traffic officials and attorneys of various lines of railroad, they had sought to reach an understanding of the new law, to the end that they might be in a position properly to observe it. He indicated, however, that so many questions had arisen, particularly concerning the pub lication and filing of tariffs they felt they ought to have an exchange of views with the Commission. He suggested that it would be necessary to have an extension of time in which the carriers would have opportunity to file their tariffs with the Commission and he requested that the Commission continue the present method of posting railroad tariffs now generally in effect. He discussed at length the technical features of the rates, as prescribed by the new law and in connection with the suggestion that the Commission suspend or modify import and export rates he urged that no change be made in the law until the fullest hearing shall have been held. He also held that a joint rate (in which two or more carriers are interested) should be the subject of concurrence. He insisted, as did all the other speakers, that absolute concurrence in joint rates of all the carriers interested should be had before the rates were established.

G. J. Grammer, vice president of the New York Central line, discussed at length some technical phases of the law. He said there was absolutety no excuse for the making of changes in export and import rates with less than 30 days notice as provided by the present law.

Chairman Knapp called his attention to the fact that in the moving of cotton the method of changing rates had been in practice for years and that if the cotton just now about to be moved would not be affected by the regulation heretofore enforced it might be disastrous to cotton interests.

"Do you think," asked Chairman Knapp, "that the change ought to be made applicable as to this year's movement of cotton?"

"I do," responded Mr. Grammer.

"I believe the carriers can adjust themselves to the new law, in this respect within thirty days."

The Commission announced that it would consider the questions brought up and make public its decision later.

At the conclusion of the hearing traffic officials of the railroads, F. T. Bentley, of Chicago, a representative of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, and the American Shippers Association, presented a series of resolutions to the Commission bearing upon the importance of the new law. The resolutions were somewhat extended and Mr. Bentley elaborated each one in order. He spoke from the standpoint of a shipper and urged the Commission in the interests of the American public to take such action as would protect the interests of the shippers as well as the railroads.

An abstract of the resolutions presented by Mr. Bentley follows:

"That we favor a continuance of the present practice of having tariffs in the custody of agents with a placard announcing that they are open to public inspection.

"That only one amendment to a tariff shall be in effect at one time and when a later amendment is necessary it shall include all live changes up-to-date.

"As to the thirty day requirement of publication of tariffs:

"That we favor the Commission ruling that a reduction in domestic rates can be made effective on ten days' notice and on export business allow three days legal notice for any reduction on the same.

"That we favor the Commission ruling that a line having no published tariff rate or carrying a higher published tariff rate than its competitors publication should be permitted to accept and forward business upon telegraphing the Commission the facts and stating that they adopt the competitors rate as their own to become effective at once, and to prevent discrimination, it must accept the lower competitive rate.

"That we favor the railways adopting a switching tariff at each competitive point.

"That means be devised to make a railway company quote rates to the public and be responsible therefor, even if they make an error in so quoting

"That we favor a ruling from the Commission that an application sheet showing such territory or such railroad connections as are parties to the rate from a particular terminal should be considered legal and sufficient.

"That we should insist that the railway companies recognize the sum lower than a higher published through rate.

"That the practice of making import rates on commodities competitive with domestic productions is discriminatory and that the lowest basis from any foreign port to an inland destination should not be lower than the domestic rate from the most favorably located port of entry, and in no case should through import rates be less than the export rates in the opposite direction between the same points:

"That we favor the adoption by all shippers of a freight receipt or bill of lading without any conditions as are now embodied in bills of lading in use generally."

TILLMAN CANDIDATES DEFEATED IN PRIMARY

Ansel Chosen for Governor and Lyon for Attorney-General of South Carolina—Both Opposed to Dispensary—It May Win.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Columbia, S. C., August 28.—The State primary election held to-day attracted unusual interest and the vote was large. The dispensary was the issue, in most of the counties there being two sets of candidates, one favoring and the other opposing the dispensary. The returns received of votes on the legislative ticket are very incomplete, but the probability is that a majority of the dispensary advocates have been chosen.

In the State election interest centered in the race for Governor and the contest for Attorney General. Senator Tillman made twenty odd speeches in favor of the dispensary. He supported Richard I. Manning for Governor and was opposed to M. F. Ansel, who stands on a local option platform. He also opposed J. F. Lyon for Attorney General. Lyon is against the dispensary and, as a member of the legislative investigating committee announced that he was investigating early transactions of Mr. Tillman when Governor. Incomplete returns from nearly every county give Ansel a considerable lead over Manning, who is the next highest. C. L. Blease is third and Joel Brunson, the prohibition candidate fourth. The four other candidates for Governor are trailing far in the rear.

Lyon leads for Attorney General just about equalling the combined vote of Ragdale and Youmans, his opponents. There is no decision for Railroad Commissioner. Boyd leads for Adjutant General and Walker for Comptroller.

PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE

United States Complimented for Its Part in Affair.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, August 28.—The State Department today received a dispatch from W. I. Buchanan, chairman of the American delegation to the Pan-American Conference, in which he says:

"The Rio conference closed last night. Baron Rio Blanco, president of the conference, delivered an address which made an excellent impression. It was replied to on behalf of the several delegations by Senor Ramierez, of Urguay. He took occasion to especially compliment the United States on the part it has taken in these conferences."

Mr. Buchanan added that "the success of the conference is already due to the efforts of the Brazalian government and the facilities it has afforded to the delegates."

CINCINNATI EXPOSITION.

Affair Formally Opened by President Roosevelt's Daughter.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Cincinnati, August 28.—With simple ceremonies the annual Cincinnati industrial exposition was formally opened today by Mrs. Nicholas Longworth. She pressed a golden button in music hall that set a chime of bells ringing. This was the signal for the opening of the festivals. Mrs. Longworth was enthusiastically cheered. Congresman and Mrs. Longworth, accompanied by the festival directors, then viewed the exhibits and the different shows in music hall and Washington Park.

PACKING HOUSES IMPROVED.

Secretary Wilson Pleased With Inspection at Chicago.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, August 28.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson spent part of today at the stockyards inspecting the packing plants. He was shown through the cattle and hog killing departments and spent considerable time in each. He was especially interested, however, in the canning department of the various plants and studied these closely. At the conclusion of his visit to the stockyard he expressed himself as greatly pleased with the excellent sanitary conditions he found. Secretary Wilson left for Washington late in the afternoon.

BASEBALL MANAGER IS OUT.

Boston Team of American League Fell Down on Him.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Boston, Mass., August 28.—James Collins, manager and third baseman of the Boston American League baseball club, was suspended today for absenting himself from the league without leave. For several weeks Collins has declined to take any part in the management. He has felt keenly the slump of his team this season and according to his own statement has been unable to get into condition to play. Early in the month Collins desired to select a number of new players to strengthen the team but instead an agent was employed to find new men and the manager was ordered to get into condition to play. He continued to absent himself and his suspension is the result.

WARM WIRELETS.

State Forester Alfred Akerman, of Massachusetts, has resigned to accept a position as professor of forestry in the University of Georgia.

At Beaumont, Texas, at 9:30 o'clock last night a boiler exploded in the Keith-Ward tract at Spindle Top, setting fire to oil storage tanks and derricks, fifteen of which have already burned. The fire at last accounts was spreading. Some of the best wells in the field are in this tract.

The Federal forces of Brazil commanded by General Rego, yesterday presented an ultimatum to Fausto Cardosa, the chief of the revolutionists in the province of Sergipe, to leave the government palace. Cardova obeyed but insulted General Rego and was killed. The Governor of the province has been reinstated.

A cablegram from Hamerfest, Norway, last night says: According to advertises received here to-day from Spitzbergen, Walter Wellman, leader of the Chicago Record Herald Polar exposition, starts South within a week, having finally decided to abandon for this year his attempt to reach the North Pole by means of an airship.

Judge Fowler, in the Fourth Circuit Court of Fon Du Lac, Wis., yesterday awarded Otto B. Shulz, a prominent baker of that city, $6,000 damages in his suit against some eighty members of the trades and labors council for boycotting Schulz's business and placing his name on the unfair list two years ago because Schulz refused to put the union label on his products.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, August 28.—The programme of the reception to be offered to William Jennings Bryan on his arrival in this city on Thursday was given out by the reception committee to-night.

The official reception will begin with the arrival of Colonel Bryan at Pier A., North River, at 4 P. M., Thursday. He will be met there by a sub-committee, headed by the chairman of the reception, Governor Folk, of Missouri. He will be welcomed by Acting Mayor McGowan, on behalf of the city of New York. Six carriages will accompany the carriage carrying Col. Bryan, which will be preceded by an escort of mounted police.

Carriage No. 3, Augustus Thomas, Commissioner O'Brien, Robert Davis and Harry W. Walker.

Carriage No. 4, Mayor Dahlman, of Omaha; General Victor Baugham, Daniel J. Campbell and John Fox.

Carriage No. 5, Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston; Comptroller Mett, John W. Cox and John W. Tomlinson.

Carriage No. 6, William Sulzer, Henry George, Jr., Bird S. Coler and Thomas L. Feitner.

Carriage No. 7, Charles F. Murphy, John F. Ahearn, O. H. P. Belmont and Lewis Nixon.

Arriving at the hotel, a special committee, consisting of five members of the reception committee from each State, will receive Colonel Bryan. Then will follow the general reception after which Colonel Bryan wil spend the time in informal discussions until 7 o'clock when he will retire to his private apartments to make ready to go to the Garden at 7:45 o'clock. Other speakers at the Garden will be J. B. Dahlman, Mayor of Omaha; D. N. Fletcher, of Florida; Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina; ex-Governor William S. Jennings, of Florida; Congressman Henry M. Goldfogle, of New York, and Senator Thomas F. Grady, of New York.

GEORGIA POPULISTS FIZZLE.

Only Nine Delegates Showed Up at State Convention.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Atlanta, August 28.—The Populist State convention called to meet here today to nominate a State ticket failed to materialize, only nine delegates making their appearance. The reasons assigned for the failure of the convention are that Hoke Smith's overwhelming victory in the Democratic primary recently held would make it useless to put out a candidate against him. Chairman Holloway of the executive committee, said tolay:

"As has been well understood for some time we have no intention of placing a ticket in the field. Fully 90 per cent. of the Populists voted for Hoke Smith. They felt that he stood for many things we have advocated for years, and since we could not secure these reforms through our own party the bulk of the party felt that we must trust together through someone else.

Chairman Holloway said the party organization would be preserved.
